REPUBLICAN TICKET.

- For President, WILLIAM H. TAFT. Vice-President, JAMES S. SHERMAN. State Treasurer, ROBERT K. YOUNG.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

I am convinced, both by faith and experience, that to maintain oneself on this earth is not a hardship but a pastime, if we will live simply and wisely; as the pursuits of the simpler nations are still the sports of the more artificial.—H. D. Thoreau.

A PLAIN DUTY.

The duty of a Republican candidate for presidential elector in Pennsylvania is entirely clear. There is no possible chance for any misunderstanding. He was named with others at the Republican state convention as his party's choice to cast the electoral vote of Pennsylvania for the Republican candidate for president of the United States, whoever that candidate might be.

Afterward the national convention at Chicago nominated President Taft as the candidate. It is therefore the duty of the Republican electoral candidates from this state to vote for Mr. Taft in the electoral college. It is true that there is no statute law compelling the elector to do this, but he is bound by a moral law which no one has yet in the entire history of the country, dared to violate.

It ought to be plain to the dullest conscience that this is the only honorable course to pursue. Under existing circumstances no Republican elector can rightly cast his electoral ballot for Col. Roosevelt; for Col. Roosevelt is not, and does not claim to be the Republican candidate for president. On the contrary he proposes to head a new party with a new name and new principles, in direct antagonism to the candidates named at Chicago and the principles adopted there.

It is aside from the question to say that Mr. Taft's nomination was not honorably obtained. It remains a fact that he stands to-day unchallenged as the Republican candidate for President of the United States. His name as such will be on the official ballot at every polling place in Pennsylvania. And under his name will be the names of the Republican candidates for the office of presidential elector. It is inconceivable that any man would permit the voters of the state to cast their ballots for him as elector, believing, and having a right to believe, that as such elector he would cast his electoral ballot for Mr. Taft, when, as a matter of fact he intended to cast that ballot for some other candidate. This would be obtaining votes under false pretenses.

The situation is unmistakably clear. The proper course of every Republican candidate for the office of presidential elector is undoubtedly plain.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Medical men in this country have expressed the hope that as a result of the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which meets in Washington next September, infantile paralysis will be robbed of the mystery which has constituted its chief terror.

De Manpassant remarks that the only real fear is the fear of the unknown. This is true of diseases. Those which we understand lose their terrors for us, while the ones that have hitherto baffled medical science fill us with an almost superstitious dread.

Much money and time have been expended in the effort to isolate the micro-organism that produces infantile paralysis, but as yet all the investigations in all the countries of the world have produced no encouraging results.

The International congress proposes to devote a generous portion of its time to comparing notes and mapping out a plan of campaign against this malady, and it is believed that the assembling of data from many countries and the discussion of it by the most learned men of the scientific world will evolve facts which, up to the present time, have eluded medical research.

If the forthcoming congress can furnish us a remedy for, or a preventative of, infantile paralysis, or provide a clue to its origin, it will have performed a signal service to mankind.

GET AFTER THE FLY.

Now is the time to "swat" the fly!

We have it on the best authority and we have no need to have any authority for common sense tells us the same thing.

The move against the fly is general. It is not nearly so general nor so vigorous as it ought to be, however, and there is hope that in days to come there will be such a pronounced campaign against this disease-breeder and germ carrier that something of real importance will be accomplished.

It is always time to "swat" the fly, but it is especially so at the beginning of the season as the more that is done at that time the fewer flies there will be to breed and to inflict humanity with their progeny.

The fly is a very prolific breeder. Each female hatches out six or more batches of eggs before she dies and in each batch there are one hundred and twenty eggs. It has been estimated that from one female fly 199 quintillion of germ carriers may descend in one season.

From this it will be appreciated that killing flies at the beginning of the season will go far toward keeping down the number of flies which will pester us through the summer and if the movement were so general that all flies were killed on sight the result would be a material cutting down in the number of flies.

But, the most important way to fight the fly is to get after the breeding places of the pests.

Flies breed in filth, in garbage, manure heaps, drains, stagnant water and such places. If all householders were to take particular pains to keep their premises in such condition that there would be fewer breeding places for flies the result would be marked. That is principally what the movement against flies is aimed at. It is to get all people interested in removing the places where flies may breed so that the thousands and thousands which ordinarily would hatch out each day will never come to life to carry their burden of woe and misery to the people of the world.

Cleanliness is the greatest foe of disease. It is so directly and indirectly. Lack of it not only makes a fertile spot for disease but it breeds all the carriers of disease who do such tremendous work in spreading illness and bringing death to thousands each year.

It is no trifling matter—this war on the fly. It is one in which each of us is vitally interested. It is a crusade against death and disease and there ought to be the greatest interest taken in it by all in every station of life and the fight should be waged relentlessly. The fly is the common enemy of all. Down with him!

BOYS, OBEY YOUR PARENTS.

An exceedingly pitiful case was presented before Judge Searle on Monday last, when a young lad with the weight of only eleven summers on his shoulders, appeared in court. The boy's mother had passed to her reward three years ago and without a mother's love, care and watchfulness the lad drifted for himself. The boy, when questioned by the judge, could distinguish right from wrong, but owing to lack of discipline he was inclined to do wrong. The father of the lad said he punished his son, but it apparently did no good. Why didn't it do any good? Because the father lacks patience and did not use diplomacy in chastising the child. There would be fewer "spoiled" children if the parents used tact in correcting their children. Children should be taught to obey their parents. More can be done by reasoning and talking with a child than by thrashing him. Another fault that should be remedied is allowing growing children to remain up all hours of the night and roam about on the streets after dark. It may surprise some of our readers if the writer should tell them that he did not go out of his yard to play until he was eight years of age. Nevertheless it was a fact and we today thank our dear mother for it. This is a fast age and parents ought to keep their eye upon their offspring. A carefully trained child will never bring remorse or contrition to his or her parent's heart.

BETHANY.

(Special to The Citizen.) Bethany, July 10.

The Fourth passed off very pleasantly here. Friends from Honesdale came up in the Erk car. The threatening storm hurried some away and stopped the speaker of the day in the beginning of his address. The band furnished music. There were also selections by the choir and male quartette. The quilt chanced off was won by Miss Jessie Hendy and the embroidered center piece by J. E. Henshaw. The amount realized over expenses was about one hundred dollars.

Rev. and Mrs. Pritchard and two children, William and Flora, spent the Fourth in Prompton where the Presbyterians were having a celebration.

Mrs. Henry Miller entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Paynter and daughter, Isabelle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and daughter Mildred of Carbonale, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Seifarth and daughter of Scranton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chappel and children of Mount Vernon, are visiting Mrs. Chappel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Strongman.

Arthur Robertson, who has recovered from a severe attack of scarlet fever, is visiting his mother, Mrs. George Robertson and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hazen and daughter, Marjorie, Miss Dorothy Clemo, of Honesdale, are visiting Clemo brothers.

Mrs. Eckhardt and daughter, Louise of Brooklyn, are spending some days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faatz before going on the Blake farm for the summer.

The many friends of Mrs. Samantha Reed Henshaw, widow of Dwight W. Henshaw, were shocked to hear of her death on Thursday night, having passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Bates, in Waymart, where she was visiting. One of Mrs. Henshaw's schoolmates, Mrs. John P. Roosa, Sr., of Monticello, N. Y., survives, who with her were students at the Beech Woods Academy and Rev. Willard Richardson's Seminary here.

Miss Eva Harnes, of Hawley, is visiting Miss Eva Gammell.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Flitze and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Geo. Hauser whose condition remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Noble and baby are spending their vacation with Mrs. Noble's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Many.

Mrs. Elmer Faatz and Mrs. Charles Pethick spent Friday in Haines at the former's home.

Ross Cody of Scranton was here over the Fourth.

Mrs. Evans and children of Honesdale, spent the Fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bodie.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomas, a daughter, on Sunday.

Mrs. Yerry, of Honesdale, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. J. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Starnes entertained over the Fourth Mrs. Horace Noyes and son, Van Kirk, of Honesdale.

The Misses Elizabeth and Mary R. Gilchrist left Tuesday for Portland, Maine.

Miss Florence Blake is expected home to spend her vacation on Thursday from the Wills Hospital, Philadelphia.

J. W. Mock and son Albert, was engaged pressing hay at C. D. Corey's a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hare and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Parslo were recent callers at Delta Walls.

A few farmers in this vicinity have commenced their haying.

School opened Monday morning with Miss Weed, of Lakewood, as teacher.

Quite a number attended the grove meeting at G. M. Wallace's on July 4th.

Ralph Crosier and family, of Moose, spent July 4th with the former's brother, Frank.

LeRoy Cole, of Scranton, visited Layton Wall Sunday.

Herbert Lee and family, of Trout Creek, N. Y., are spending a few weeks in this vicinity.

Mrs. Thomas Davis and daughter, Evelyn, returned to their home in Carbonale Friday last.

Frank Dopp and friend, who visited a few days the past week at G. W. Ogden's, returned to Endicot, N. Y., Sunday.

Zarre Lee, of Trout Creek, N. Y., is cutting the hay on his farm here.

Miss Edith J. Carey and sister, Mrs. Harry Brownell, who spent the past week with relatives and friends in this vicinity, returned to their homes in Carbonale Sunday afternoon.

Died Suddenly

"Acute Indigestion the Cause." How Often do We Read this Heading in Our Daily Paper.

Dear reader, if your food does not digest properly, but stays in your stomach, causing much misery, shortness of breath and fermentation, you are the one that should constantly have with you a box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets.

Two little MI-O-NA tablets taken at the first sign of distress would have kept many a death notice out of the papers.

If you have stomach trouble of any kind, start to get rid of it today. One 50 cent box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets will make you feel like a new man. Two weeks' treatment will make any abused, out of order stomach strong and vigorous.

Guaranteed, mind you, for indigestion, dizziness, biliousness, bad dreams. They clear the skin and brighten the eyes. A box for only 50 cents at G. W. Peil's, the druggist, and druggists everywhere.

Mrs. Ed. Cole, of Scranton, who is spending a few weeks at Wrighter Lake, was calling on old acquaintances here the past week.

UNION.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Children's Day was observed in the church last Sunday afternoon. The church was prettily trimmed with ferns, roses, daisies and peonies. Evergreen was festooned across the church very pretty, with a large cross of pink peonies in the center. The program, "Summer Comes Again," was nicely rendered and was as follows: Song, "Summer Comes Again," choir; recitation, "Children's Day," Harold Kellam; recitation, "Dorothy," Elva Mahon; recitation, "What the Flowers Do," Clarence Kemp; recitation, "Baby's Logic," Beatrice Caffery; song, "A Rose Song," choir; recitation, "The Gospel of the Flowers," Esther Boy's Prayer; Harold Kellam; recitation, "The Watered Lilies," Abbie Blake; recitation, "The Children's Offering," Edith Bullock; song, "Little Buds of Promise," children of primary department; recitation, "A Bunch of Lilies," Esther Galow; song, "A Sunbeam," Edith Bullock, Elva Mahon, and Lillian Krauland; recitation, "Buttercup Day," Muriel Teeple; recitation, "The Little Bird," Thomas Teeple; song, "Hosanna in the Highest," choir; recitation, "The Bells in the Steeple," Emory Teeple; recitation, "I Promised Mother," Herbert Schenk; solo, "Jesus Loves Me," Beatrice Caffery; exercise—At the Window—Elva Mahon, Leah Kemp, Edith Bullock, Ruth Denny; recitation, "How Katie Knocked at the Door of Heaven," Sadie Dewey; song, "Morning With the Birds and Flowers," choir; recitation, "The Brook and the Bird," Ruth Denny; recitation, "Is There Any Room in Heaven?" $100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
